

China Business News (CBN) is one of the premium financial news providers in China with its presence in print, television and Internet. CBN belongs to Shanghai Media Group, which is the second largest media group in China. For years, we have been focusing on the economic policy and financial issues of China in the context of its fast evolving relationship with the United States and the rest of the world. We have been reporting from New York and Washington, DC for more than seven years.

As a part of CBN's long-term commitment to U.S.-China economic relations and the top issues of our common concern, CBN will co-sponsor its annual New York Forum with Americas Society this year.

This year's forum features two panel discussions and a cocktail party. We are honored to have world top economists and Wall Street titans to share with us their insights on the current world economy and Sino-U.S. collaboration
